

The Leaving

Walk with me down to the river we'll reminisce that country mile 'cause my heart is doing time we only have a little while

Now I don't want to see you crying it will only magnify the pain though our roads have split apart in the end they'll meet again

'Cause I know-in this world it's such a rocky road we ride but I know- in the spirit world you'll never leave my side
